Alhamdulillah, Mercy School Institute has earned its third successful accreditation under the leadership of Principal Buthiana Jwayyed. Our lead evaluator commended Principal Buthiana Jwayyed for the level of buy-in and consensus the students, staff, parents, and community stakeholders demonstrated. He repeatedly stated, “You are Off the Charts!” as compared to national levels. The evaluating team was extremely impressed by the staff, saying they instilled in the students a level of unparalleled autonomy and empowerment with student-led programs such as STEAM, MYLC, StuCo, NHS, Peer-tutoring, and the Khateeb program. He followed with vehement confidence that, “You can be a template for other schools!”

The evaluating team was quite impressed with our Mercy scholars. “Wow, wow, wow!” – yes, thrice said, back-to-back, when describing our students. The lead evaluator did not hold back as he described them as fully empowered in their education and constantly referred to post-secondary academic aspirations. He commended the autonomy and agency they maintained in their academics, which is manifested in the teacher quality we have. We are proud of our teachers and students who have demonstrated immense knowledge and most importantly – discipline and high responsibility in the course of preparation for the accreditation!

Mercy School is one of 67,000 schools across all 7 continents engaged in the Cognia accreditation process which recognizes institutions based on their systemic and sustainable commitment.

Conscientious work and a conscientious attitude to the work in the process of preparation for the accreditation became the pledge of completing an important stage. We congratulate the principal, administration team, lead teachers, teachers, students, parents and community stakeholders on the deserved success and commitment of our teamwork!

Allahu Akbar!
